

It's the Portrait Project!

And this is a consent/release form to let the project go ahead

A small group of portrait photographers plan to take a large number of photos of Gabriola Island residents over the next several months. If the project goes ahead as planned, it will result in a display of prints at an event for the community to share, celebrating the connections in our community.

This release is about photographs already taken or to be taken (“the Images”), by Bill Pope or Blair Mann (“the Photographers”), for the Portrait Project

In consideration of one or more of the Images of me being included in the Portrait Project, and/or delivery to me by email of a copy of one or more of the Images: I agree that the Photographer may take photos of me, and will retain copyright of the Images. The Photographer may use, publish and display the Images in which I am included (for the Portrait Project, and for his own use), with or without reasonable changes, for illustration, art, promotion, or other purpose. I consent to use of printed or digital material including the Images, and I relinquish any right I may have to examine or approve the completed product in connection with the Images or the Portrait Project. I release:

- the Photographers, and their heirs, legal representatives and assigns,
- and others acting with or for the Photographers, from any liability from their taking, use, publishing, retention or processing of the Images, or the use of my name in the Portrait Project, including claims for libel or invasion of privacy.

I have read this Consent/Release before signing it, and I sign and deliver this Consent/Release:
